DETAILED ACTION

This action is responsive to the preliminary amendment filed 10/30/2006. Claims 1-38 have been cancelled and new claims 39-76 have been added. Claims 39-76 are currently pending in this application.

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

1. Species drawn to a rear-drive vehicle characterized in that when cornering the central control unit reduces the lock percentage of the differential when the accelerator pedal is pressed and increases the lock percentage of the differential when the accelerator pedal is released;
2. Species drawn to a rear-drive vehicle characterized by comprising two torque sensors and the central control unit controlling the regulating device to regulate the lock percentage of the differential as a function of the value of the torque transmitted by the self-locking differential to each rear wheel;
3. Species drawn to a rear-drive vehicle characterized in that when cornering at substantially steady speed, the central control unit estimates the road grip of the wheels, zeroes the lock percentage of the differential when the road grip of the wheels is far from the grip limit, and gradually increases the lock percentage of the differential when the road grip of the wheels nears the grip limit; and

4. Species drawn to a rear-drive vehicle characterized in that when driving along a substantially straight route, the central control unit zeroes the lock percentage of the differential in normal driving mode, and gradually increases the lock percentage of the differential in sport driving mode.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species 1: claims 39-61;

Species 2: claim 62-68;

Species 3: claims 69-75; and

Species 4: claim 76.

The following claim(s) are generic: no claims appear to be generic.

Art Unit: 3655

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Each species regulates the lock percentage of the differential in a distinct manner as described in the species' description above.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
